

Draft BILT AGENDA 2025

Promoting modern and competitive qualifications and competencies in TVET through international bridging of innovation and learning

After completing the first two years of BILT, these conclusions became apparent:

- The difficulties on the labour market and TVET-systems have become more urgent than ever: Too many unskilled youth on the one side. On the other side an increasing need for practical and professional labour to get innovations installed and running!
- Time is running out on the climate front. Without digital competencies no-one will compete in the long run. Labour markets are interconnected over continents. The promise of free enterprise in peril to unlock individual TVET-potentials, promoting a common good.

Less talking. Real Acting.

The draft of a “BILT Agenda” is our proposal to start a new form of cooperation.

With UNESCO-UNEVOC, BIBB and the German government as a sponsor, we want to motivate partner institutions in Europe, Africa and Asia to contribute to the BILT-principles and commitments.

Trustworthy. Sector-sensitive. Future-oriented.

Commitment 1:

Strengthen active partnerships between Europe, Africa and Asia-Pacific ('Bridging')

Commitment 2:

Foster Innovation and Knowledge Generation for new and attractive qualifications and competencies in relevant sectors

Commitment 3:

Reinforce
effective Learning, Teaching and Capacity Building

Commitment 4:

Spotlight the Dual Transition
by examining their implications on New Qualifications and Competencies
