Subject :- International Conference on Vocational Education, Skills Development and Entrepreneurship at Hotel Amer Greens, Hoshangabad Road, Bhopal.
(20th & 21st March, 2013)

Dear Sir/Madam,

As you are aware that, the Prime Minister of India has launched Skills Development Mission in the 11th Five Year Plan with the target of skilling 500 Million Youth by 2020. The Skilled Society adjusts easily for knowledge economy and higher economic growth. India has become knowledge economy and wants to achieve double digit economic growth. To achieve high economic growth, skilled, competent and productive youth will be of great help.

For implementing the Prime Minister's Skill Development Mission, various structural changes have been made like establishment of PM's Council on Skills Development under the Chairmanship of Prime Minister himself, National Skill Development Coordination Board under the Chairmanship of Dy. Chairman, Planning Commission and National Skill Development Corporation, Under Ministry of Finance.

AICTE under Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD) has come out with very innovative and futuristic document i.e. National Vocational Education Qualification Framework for main streaming Vocational Education and Training in Formal Education System. Efforts are being made to fulfill set targets, but results are yet to be seen on ground. Intensive care needs to be taken to fulfill the set target. It is quite pertinent that at this juncture a critical review and assessment of various plans, policies, schemes and results achieved may be re-examined critically. This will not only provide a feedback on previous developments but also be an eye opener for setting directions in the 12th Five Year Plan. The Conference will specially deliberate on Tribal Entrepreneurship, Rural Industrialisation and share success stories of India and abroad in above areas.

The Conference will benefit you Professionally and Academically. Kindly contribute a Paper which will be published in a 'Refereed Journal'. You are also requested to attend the International Conference during 20-21 March, 2013 at Hotel Amer Greens, Hoshangabad Road, Bhopal.

A line of confirmation is requested.

With kind regards.

Encl. :- Registration Form.

Yours Sincerely,

(Prof. R. G. CHOUKSEY)

1.0 Preamble :

India has a population of over 1.2 billion and a workforce of around 0.5 billion. With the current levels of unemployment being around 46 million, it is likely to grow to anywhere between 50 to 60 million in the next 8 to 10 years. In terms of demographics almost 35% of Indians are younger than 15 years of age, whilst 18% fall within the age group of 15 -24 years. The median age of the Indian is 24 years, which makes it one of the youngest populations in the world. Over 200 million students enroll for school in Class I each year but only 20 million of these are able to finish Class XII, which is only 10% of the entire intake or in other words 90% of the school students, drop out at different stages. This signifies that a large number of people who drop out of school do not have the necessary education and skills to be employed in the industry.

Sixty percent of the Indian workforce is self- employed many of them remain very poor. Nearly 30% are casual workers. Only about 10% are regular employees, of which two fifth are employed by the public sector. More than 90% of the labour force is employed in the “unorganized sector” i.e. sectors which don't offer social safety and other benefit of employment as in the organized sector.

Around 55% of our population is supported by the agriculture sector, with the GDP contribution of only 22% which is declining progressively. The migration from rural to urban areas is due to lack of relevant work places, skill sets in this sector in rural areas. These numbers are likely to add to the urban poverty that is already a cause for concern. The agricultural labor forms the bulk of un-organized sector. In urban India, contract and sub-contracts as well as migratory agricultural laborers make the most of the un-organized sector. Over 70% of the labor force in all sectors combined is either illiterate or educated below the primary level.

Vocational Education has been accorded high priority in the National Policy of Education, 1986 which states “The introduction of systematic well planned and vigorously implemented program of vocational education is crucial in proposed educational re-organization. Vocational Education will be a distinct stream intended to prepare students for identified vocations, spanning several areas of activities.” This in itself throws huge challenge in terms of demands on vocational education, skill development and entrepreneurship.

2.0 Need for strengthening Vocational Education Provider :

About 90% of the employment opportunities require vocational skills, something that is not imparted on a large scale in schools and colleges. The major reforms proposed for bringing about necessary flexibility in offering of vocational courses and development of modular competency based curricula in collaboration with industries to suit the need of both target groups.
