Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) Reference Framework

Colleges and Institutes Canada

Ottawa, Canada

The UNEVOC Centre released its Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition Reference Framework to help streamline skills upgrading, and support workforce development. The Framework outlines the national tools, processes and quality practices that allow people to receive recognition for what they bring from previous training and work experience.

The conference aimed at gathering the main actors of Inclusive Excellence in VET to start international cooperation on inclusive didactics, coaching, management and governance in both training and work. The conference took place in a hybrid format, with the participation of global stakeholders. There were also parallel workshops where discussion and common reflection helped to design a strategy for an Inclusive VET as a trigger for an Alliance for Inclusive Excellence in VET. Shyamal Majumdar, former Head of UNESCO-UNEVOC, was the keynote speaker at the conference.

The National Office of Vocational Education and Training in Hungary published a national report on VET career tracking results in relation to users’ satisfaction, social mobility, employment parallel to studies and short term labour market forecasts. Besides the general presentation of the system, the document describes the questionnaire module of the Vocational Training Path Tracking System and the first results in relation to satisfaction, social mobility, employment in addition to studies and future plans, as well as a short labour market forecast.
